

The Guinea pig and the Slug.

One day, a Guinea pig and a slug met up in a playground. They were talking and the Guinea pig said, "I'm the fastest runner there there is!"

But the slug said, "We should have a race and see!"

"OK then," the Guinea pig said excitedly.

So the Guinea pig and the slug started the race and ~~and~~ all their friends came to cheer them on. The Guinea pig was saying, "I'm going to win the race!"

"I might win," said slug, tiredly.

Suddenly the Guinea pig said, tiredly, "I think I'll just have a nap" and ^{she} fell asleep. So the slug said ~~said~~ whispered, "I'll win now!"

So the slug went past the bush ^{quietly} ~~quite~~.

Then the slug was way ahead of the guinea pig. So the slug kept on saying, "I'm going to win!" and kept on going.

Suddenly the Guinea pig woke up and ^{she} ~~he~~ yawned and said, "Oh I need to be fast!" The slug was nearly there.

So their friends were still cheering and they were still running. They were both nearly there and the Guinea just overlooked the slug and the Guinea pig won the race. The Guinea pig said, "I told you I would win" and the slug said, "OH!"

MORAL: DON'T Give up
