

Friday 26th February

Journey to the River Sea

And the curtain came down.

After the matinée, back at home, Maia watched the twins go scarlet red with laughter. "It was hilarious," Chatter Beatrice!
hilarious

speech ✓ "I know, it was sooo funny when his voice went really low," shrieked Gwendolyn, tears running down her cheek! Then Beatrice imitated Clovis in a really deep voice, her face scrunched up.
✓ "Will I have to stop being your little boy

Gwendolyn guffawed and sniggered as she rolled around on the flaw_{sp}

✓ "It's not his fault, he couldn't help it!" cried Maia. ✗

✓ "How would you feel, what if it happened to you?" fought Maia. She gave up shortly after.

It was no use, it would be hard for the twins to think of anyone but themselves. It was hard to believe the twins were so cruel, (with their pretty faces and neat dresses.) ✓

I like this additional detail.

(T) homophones

Even though Maia ~~tried~~ stand up for Clovis, there was know point.

"I thought I was going to die," blubbered Gwendolyn. (T)

Beatrice gave a hand to help Gwendolyn off the floor.
"Me too," giggled Beatrice
giggled Beatrice. (T)

Gwendolyn brushed the dust off her ~~short~~ dress and neatened her bow still simpering. For a while there was silence, then Beatrice butted in.
"Mama wasn't very happy ~~to~~ with you sneered Beatrice & stabbing her finger into Maid's chest.

apostrophe
pass¹

"Yes indeed" enquired Gwendolyn
"She called you a ragamuffin" smirked she smirked

"Well I agree with her" confined Beatrice

They pushed past her chuckling and glaring. Remember the rule - knock off the e ✓ Great verbs for 'said' here and correct use of speech marks.

Extend your sentences with a range of stylistic devices and subordinate clauses.

(T)